Expiration Date - (Three years from date above)

Dear Mr. Bajaria:

We are pleased to inform you that your firm is certified as a Small Disadvantaged Business (SDB) under U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) guidelines. You are now eligible to participate in the SDB Program. Certification is valid for three years from the date of this letter. Your firm will be added to SBA's list of certified SDBs found in the Small Dynamic Business Search directory, SBA's on-line registry, at <http://www.ccr.gov>.

The SDB Program regulations in Title 13 of the Code of Federal Regulations, Section 124.1016(b), require that during your three-year term you report within 10 days any changes in ownership and control or any other circumstances which could adversely affect the eligibility of your firm as an SDB. Failure to do this could result in the decertification of your firm. Please note also that in order for your firm to continue to participate as an SDB after its three-year term, you must reapply for the SDB Program.

Please note that on June 5, 2004, SBA's statutory authority for the SDB Price Evaluation Adjustment (PEA), contained in §7102 of Public Law 103-355, expired. Separate PEA statutory authority is still in effect for government procurement activities in the Department of Defense, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and Coast Guard. Additionally, SDB certification is still required for the subcontracting program under §8(d) of the Small Business Act.

I wish you much success in your future business endeavors.

Sincerely,

Al Stubblefield
Acting Associate Administrator
Office of Business Development
